

EDWARD P. STRITTER

EDUCATION:

|   |             |
|---|-------------|
| Dartmouth College , B.A. Math                | 1968 |
| Stanford University , M.S. Computer Science  | 1969 |
| Stanford University , Ph.D. Computer Science | 1976 |

EXPERIENCE:

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Bell Laboratories , Holmdel, NJProgrammer in Database development. | 1968 to 1970 |
|---|---------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Motorola , Austin, TXMember of technical staff on new microprocessor development team. Chief Architect for Motorola 68000 microprocessor. Author of first Pascal compiler for 68000. | 1976 to 1979 |
|---|---------------------|

|  |                     |
|--|---------------------|
| Nestar, Inc. , Palo Alto, CADirector of Product Development. Early pioneering company in local area networks for PCs. Developed hardware and software products for PC networking. | 1979 to 1983 |
|--|---------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| MIPS Computer, Inc. , Sunnyvale, CAFounder, VP Engineering, VP Business Development. First commercial RISC microprocessor. Company founder and original head of engineering. Later served as VP of Business Development and worked with global semiconductor companies and operating system vendors for large-scale adoption of MIPS architecture. | 1983 to 1992 |
|---|---------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| NeTpower, Inc. , Sunnyvale CAFounder, VP Engineering, VP Technology. Producer of workstations and servers using MIPS and Intel processors, designed specifically for Windows NT. Worked with Microsoft and major ISV's to tune operating system, graphics subsystems and application software for NeTpower computer systems. | 1992 to 1996 |
|---|---------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Clarity Wireless , Belmont, CAFounder and Chairman. Producer of very high data-rate fixed broadband wireless equipment. Development stage company with patented high-bandwidth wireless technologies. Acquired by Cisco in 1998. | 1996 to 1998 |
|---|---------------------|

|   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Cisco Systems, Inc. , San Jose, CADirector of Business Development, Wireless Access Business Unit. Worked with major spectrum holders and service providers to advance use of wireless technologies for broadband internet access. | 1999 to 2000 |
|---|---------------------|

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| Independent Angel InvestorAdvisor, investor and board member of early stage startup companies in Wireless Internet. | 2000 to present |
|--|------------------------|

SERVICE

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| Thayer School of Engineering, Dartmouth College , Hanover NHMember of Board of Overseers, Member of Campus Computing Corporate Advisory Group | 1997 to present |
|--|------------------------|

|  |                        |
|--|------------------------|
| Trinity School , Menlo Park CAMember of Board of Trustees | 2002 to present |
|--|------------------------|